Dear ACS Families,

He is Risen! Happy Easter Everyone! I hope everyone had a relaxing Easter break. Your scholars came in on Monday and have hit the ground running! They are back to their studies and preparing for the annual standardized tests. We want our students to do their personal best and ask that you help us ensure they are rested and eat a healthy breakfast. We have taken practice IOWA tests yesterday and today and begin the official test on tomorrow. Results should be received by the end of May, which allows us enough time to plan for next year.

From your children's point of view, the most exciting news is that there is Physical Education Tuesday and Thursday of this week and next! Please make sure they are in gym uniform.

ACS Hi-Light: ACS's Art Class

The ACS Art Department has been infused with new energy, creativity, a new teacher and on a new day - Monday! Our students are being exposed to using oil pastels, how to use water colors, symmetry and line. The new projects are engaging and really exposing our Scholars to different forms of art. Student's art work is on display in the auditorium, and has received many compliments from our Bingo patrons and workers. Stop by and take a look! Please join me in welcoming Mrs. Stearns to the ACS team and continue to encourage your children to explore their artistic talents!

Road to Graduation: Dylanise Cambero

Dyla has been a student at ACS since fifth grade. Her spunky personality and her drive to do well in all her coursework are her special gifts. She participates in Senior Drama, Food Club, Show Choir and Student Council. She is committed to her studies and extra-curricular activities and is planning on attending JFK High School. Dyla says the following about ACS:

What will you miss most about ACS?

ACS is not only a school it is truly a family. We are all very close and wish the best for each other. I think I'm going to miss the teachers and my friends the most.

What subject do you think you might want to pursue in the future?

I've always been fascinated by the medical field, I love the idea of helping and saving lives. I feel my calling is to me a pediatric surgeon.

What advice can you share with the 7th graders as they prepare for their last year at ACS?

To the seventh graders I would say, "always be prepared, always work hard, and always lend a helping hand!". They will be the oldest students in the building and have to be responsible and good role models.

Dyla, we wish you the very best! 44 ACS days left!
